How to: View What-If Report

The "What-if Report" can be used to set up and request a simulated "what-if" advisement report based on alternate programs of study. To create your own custom report, follow the directions below.

1. Log into Navigator.

2. Once at the Student Homepage, click on "Academic Progress".

3. On the menu bar, click on "View What-If Report".

4. Next, click on "Create New Report".

5. In the chart under "Career Scenario", your career should be prefilled. If you are thinking of changing careers, you may indicate so in the drop down menu. You may change the catalog year under its respective heading to see what classes would be offered within the major/minor/ concentration you are thinking of declaring/ changing.

6. In the chart under "Program Scenario", your current academic information will be pre-filled. You may change this information according to Academic Program, Area of Study, and Concentration in their respective drop-down menus.

   Note: This is a hypothetical scenario and it will not affect your current academic program/ information.

7. In the chart under "Course Scenario", you may click on "Browse Course Catalog" to select courses for inclusion within your what-if scenario.

If you choose to include specific courses in your what-if report, please follow steps 7-9. If you do not use this option, click "Submit Request" and proceed to step 12.

8. Find the course subject listed alphabetically. Click on the course subject to view the course offerings for the semester you previously specified. i.e. Accounting

9. Clicking on the course link itself should expand the window to show course offerings. When you have the information you need, click "Return to Select Course for What-if Scenario" at either the top and bottom or the page.
